Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

Changing Pollock in the November "Mercury", under the title: "America Doesn't Give a Damn," utters a severe indictment of the American people. When the Titanic, safe, beautiful, modern ship of its day (1912) went down in a collision with an iceberg, it did so after 12 hours of radio warnings, her engines at full speed, her band playing, and her passengers dancing. Pollock sees the great ship of Columbia going down from the crested sea of civilization, down, down, to the primal ooze of barbarism, while its people are singing "The Music Goes Round and Round," are playing golf or the stock market, are entertaining one another with "Knock, Knock," or engaging in contests at social gatherings to see which one can sit most comfortably on an upturned milk bottle.

Politics, government, taxes, require thought, endeavor, organization, exertion of one kind or another. The people, according to Pollock, refuse to think, its too tiring, too wearing for the modern day American. As a sample of thinking done he cites the following arguments in the recent presidential election: (a) Roosevelt is more convincing on the radio; (b) Landon made the grade by himself; (c) the New Deal gav..e my sister-in-law a job; (d) why shouldn't the rich share some of their wealth? (e) there would have been a revolution; (f) Roosevelt does things. (g) Hoover didn't; (h) Landon don't and (i) from both sides, you can't beat $5,000,000,000.

As for the death and destruction which looms ahead, laments Pollock, few are much concerned. America plays bridge, or "Handies," struggles for more money and less work, or both; wears paper caps at banquets, blows tin horns on weekend cruises, drinks too much, gets terribly excited about Mrs. Wallis Simpson and the Dionne quintuplets, while across the ocean whole nations revert to barbarism, liberty disappears from the face of the earth, while civilization crumbles.

Every people satisfied with bread and ciscuses, says Pollock, have fallen into the hands of a Caligula, a Mussolini, a Hitler or a Stalin. Apathy is the universal symptom of physical, mental and national breakdown. High standards of living, the author implies, have brought low standards of morals. Courtesy, loyalty, courage and what was once known as common decency are vanishing. Our national supremacy in crime, is due primarily to public sympathy with the criminal. By implication, when sinning to satisfy desires becomes a common attribute those caught in the meshes of the law by so doing should receive public sympathy.

It is a brilliant article and will pay any thoughtful person to read it. But we in this little corner of America still insist that while there are sixteen million people who refuse to vote more governmental largess for persons that refuse to work, who refuse to believe that the founders of this Republic were a group of rural nincompoops, who did not know what they were doing when they wrote the Constitution, who refuse "to be apple dumplings for every cheap demagogue and every expensive vote buyer;" there is hope for America.

We have still a backlog, so to speak, of the people who can see further than their noses, who, perhaps will keep the home fires burning. These are people who today are heeding the warning everywhere apparent to "Stop, look and listen." Pollock states that few democracies have survived more than 200 years. This democracy, of the United States, by that measure, is now entering into its old age, for we are 160 years old. There are only two first class democracies left in the world. The rest of the world is mostly in the hands of dictators, who, for obvious reasons, hate democracies. Can we survive in a world so hostile, or will we go down, like the Titanic with bands playing, and the people dancing.

NEVADA COUNTY POPULATION IS REPORTED 17,600

Nevada county will have a population of 17,600 on January 1, 1937 according to an estimate of the population of California counties just completed by California Taxpayers' Association. Population of the county on January 1, 1936, was 16,780 the association estimated.

According to the Federal census, Nevada county's population was 10,596 on April 1, 1930, so that the Taxpayers' Association estimate shows an increase of about 7,000 by January 1, 1937.

The total population of California, the association estimated, will be 6,790,000 on January 1, 1937, an increase of approximately 1,113,000 over the census population of 5,677,251 as of April 1, 1930.

Changes in population come from two general sources, the association stated. The first is the excess or shortage of births over deaths; the second, the increase or decrease caused by migration. The present estimates are supported by actual school enrollment figures for 1936 and current school enrollments reported by California school administrators. They also reflect the increasing immigration into the state which has been in evidence since the census.

STUDENTS TODAY GO BACK TO SCHOOL

Students, both elementary and high school, will trudge back to their dear school today to resume their studies, which were interrupted by the Thanksgiving vacation.

Many of the students visited the bay region and saw the California-Stanford "big game" during the holidays.

The high school tennis courts have taken a beating, having been occupied from early in the morning till late as possible in the evening. If lights were on the courts, they would probably be occupied till midnight.

The next vacation will be the usual Christmas vacation.

CCC BOY HURT FIGHTING FIRE

CAMPTONVILLE, Nov. 27.—One of the most disagreeable forest fires of the season took place Sunday near the Lavezzola ranch above Downieville. A miners cabin burning down started it, and with this unusual dry season it soon spread into the forest.

On first call the local Missouri boys responded and remained on the lines until Wednesday evening. It was in a very mountainous and rugged country which made it difficult to fight.

Several of the boys narrowly escaped being trapped by the flames. Another, Wesley Hazel, was badly hurt by a falling rock. At the top of the mountain some timber was holding up rock taken from a mine. The fire burned away the supports and the rock pile came flying down the hill. The boys dodged as best they could, but Hazel was unable to miss a rock about eight inches in diameter which struck him in the side knocking him unconscious. He was brought back here Monday night and taken to the hospital at Nevada City Tuesday.

George Strodman, another of the boys almost collapsed due to exertion and strain. They were relieved Wednesday by another crew from Tahoe Ukiah, and came home a pretty tired bunch of boys. While they were gone, Foreman Varden had his crew standing by here in case any other fire would break out.

This is the longest and worst fire season ever recorded in the activities of the local forest service. The dryness continues with no apparent sign of storm.

RECOVERING FROM INJURIES

Charles Miller and Arthur Rolls whose machine went through the guard rail at Town Talk and down the steep embankment to the Narrow Gauge right of way have recovered enough from the various injuries and abrasions received to leave the hospital.

WINTER MONTHS SEASON OF RHEUMATIC INFECTION

A hint that the people of northern California should take extra precautions to guard their health during December, January and February, to help prevent or overcome rhemuatic diseases, is contained in a report by Dr Amos Christie, instructor in pediatrics and medicine in the University of California Medical School. At the same time, Dr. Christie states. "we are dealing with a benign type of rhemuatic infection, comparable with that of other communicable disease in California."

The study made by Dr. Christie revealed "an unusually high hospital incidence and a low general incidence" of rheumatic fever in the northern California. A study of 116 cases in San Francisco indicates that the incidence of carditis, or inflammation of the heart, in combination with other rheumatic manifestations is correspondingly low.

The high hospital incidence of rheumatic disease in San Francisco is strikingly in contrast with the low general incidence, according to Dr. Christie. One reason advanced is that many people migrate to California for their health and seek the hospitals of the big cities for the treatment of rheumatic ailments, but this reason is not fully borne out by the showing made by hospitals in other populous centers of the state. The low incidence of rheumatic fever among school children in San Francisco may also be attributed to the possibility that the disease becomes benign for long periods after its typical onset, although this is also a matter of considerable speculation.

But the fact remains, according to Dr. Christie that in San Francisco "we deal with a relatively benign type of rheumatim infection, when measured in terms of cardiac damage resulting from the rhemuatic infection."

Dr. Christie'e report appears in the current issue of The American Heart Journal.

PAST PRESIDENTS WILL BRING XMAS CHEER

The annual hospital party of the Past Presidents Association, No. 6, N. D. G. W. will be held on December 18 at the Womens ward of the county hospital. Candies, jellies, and an apron will be the gift for each inmate. The past presidents will also present a program which is always greatly enjoyed by the old ladies at the hospital.

At the meeting of the past presidents Friday night a social session followed the business meeting at which cards were the diversion. Prizes were won by Minerva Wright and Adeline O'Conner. Mrs. Mary LeDuc won the mystery box.

DEAD LINE FOR TAXES IS NEAR

The dead line for the first installment of taxes is Saturday at noon, December 5. County Treasurer Frank Steel calls attention to the fact that after that date a penalty will be assessed for delinquency and urges all tax payers to get their first installment paid before the dead line.

WELL BABY CONFERENCE HERE ON WEDNESDAY

A well baby conference will be held in the primary room of the Methodist church on Wednesday, December 2. The conference is sponsored by the P. T. A. and is in charge of Dr. Emmaline Banks of the state department of child hygiene. Dr. Banks will be assisted by Mrs. Heffelfinger, county school nurse.

Parents are invited to bring infants or children up to six years of age for examination and advice about their health and care.

Children who have had colds or contagious illness during the fourteen days preceding the conference are asked not to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Welsh and three children spent Thanksgiving in Sacramento with Mrs. Welsh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis.

ALL NEVADA CO. GOVERNMENTS COST $565,313

Nevada county local governments had a total income of $565,313, or $35.82 per capita in 19934-35, according to findings of California Taxpayers' association. The local governments include the county, the cities, the schools, and other districts. Compared with other California counties, Nevada county's local governments income per capita was 57th from the highest. The average for the state as a whole was $57.47.

Income in the county from local taxes levied by the county, cities and schools was $240,861. or $15.26 per capita; other districts collected $10,022 or 64 cents per capita, apportionments from the state amounted to $250,507, or $15.87 per capita, while miscellaneous local income amounted to $63,923, or $4.05 per capita, the association stated.

The income of all the local governments of California, including the fifty eight counties, the cities, schools, and other districts, amounted to $365,696,000 in 1934-34, more than a milloon dollars a day, the Taxpayers association found. This million dollars a day is the price the people of California pay for the services and regulations known as local government, and does not include the equally varied and costly functions carried on by the state and federal governments. The income of the local governments comes from three major sources, about 63 per cent from the common property tax on real estate, buildings, and persinal property, 29 per cent from the state in the form of apportionments for schools, roads, old age aid, etc., and about 8 per cent from miscellaneous fees, fines, and charges locally.

"In the broad view, the sources of local governmental revenues are of less importance than the total amount," the Taxpayers' association stated. "By whatever name this income is called, it represents a load which every citizen must shore in approximate proportion to his wealth or wages. Whether it is collected by the state, city or county and regardless of the form of taxation used, the only ultimate source from which it can come is the individual. It behooves him to see that he gets his money's worth.

CUB SCOUTS TO BE REORGANIZED

With arrangements completed to use Seaman's Lodge for meetings of the Cub scouts, the Nevada City inactive troop of Cubs will hold a reorganization meeting at the lodge at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. Cub Master Clifford B. Merriam has called the meeting and invites Cubs and their parents as well as interested boys between the ages of 9 and 12 to attend. Mr. Ricksecker, scout commissioner for the Tahoe area council, will be at the meeting to address the Cubs and their guests. The Cub group has been handicapped recently because it has not had a meeting place but Merriam hopes that his Cubs will now take a new lease on the life of their organization and become important in scout affairs.

WILL SPEND WINTER AT MINE

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Addington are to leave for Feather Falls in about ten days to spend the winter on mining ground Mr. Addington is developing. A house, hoist house, and hoist have been put up and timbers cut for winter work. The property is two miles from the town of Feather Falls and they will have electricity and running water. In shaft development Addington states he has found a two foot pay chute in an eight foot ledge that carries high assays.

GABLES SUES HEIDELBERG

An damage suit is coming up in the Nevada County Superior Court in Nevada City at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in which R. J. Bean is plaintiff and Aline Ellis is defendant. Bean is owner of the Gables, and Mrs. Ellis owns the Heidelberg Inn and adjacent property. Both are in the Glenbrook district between Nevada City and Grass Valley.

Four Forest Fires Rage In High Wind

CCC FOREST FIRE FIGHTERS ENJOY DELAYED FEAST

The fire near Downieville last week kept CCC men at work over Thursday and caused them to miss their Thanksgiving dinner. But turkeys and other delicacies were kept on ice at the camp at White Cloud until the enrollees could return. The fire, seemingly dead by Thursday afternoon, broke out in the brush during the night but was discovered by one of the forestry foremen in time for men to check its progress. Members of company 3711 were able to return to their camp by Friday morning and to make ready for the big dinner at four o'clock. The mess hall tables were covered with white tablecloths and full plates of food. Much of the tableware used at the camp is silverplated, bears the navy crest, and it made quite a handsome showing. At the officers table, headed by Captain Beujamin B. Irving, were the army and camp officers, forestry officials, and their guests. Besides mess sergeant Fred Broderick, there were assisting him in the kitchen two first cooks, enrollees, who have learned all of their cooking under the CCC. Boys in white ducks and aprons served at the tables. The unusual quiet that overcame the boys as they ate proved that the food was good and that they were getting all they wanted. They finished early and only those at the officers table remained late over desserts and cigarettes. Probably no less happy over the feast than the company and its officers were the company dogs. There are five of these dogs, that have become unofficially attached to company 3711 in their months at White Cloud. The last of these is a part-coyote lady with six pups, the newly acquired name of Simone Simon. Guardians of the dogs saw to it that the choice leavings from the tables were set aside for their "best friends." Saturday the camp began its move to Grass Valley where it will spend the winter.

The high northwest wind today fanned four forest fires into roaring conflagrations over wide fronts. The first one noted from Nevada City started from rubbish burning by Ivan Dow on his farm on the Tahoe Ukiah highway. It got away in the wind and began to climb the brush and timber slope back of the place toward the summit of Harmony Ridge.

About the same time this fire started, another blaze sprang up on the Kirkham place a mile south of the South Yuba river not far from Lake Vera. Both those fires are in the department of State Fire Warden Bill Sharp and he had proceeded to the Kirkham place before the alarm from the Dow ranch came in.

DeWitt Nelson, forest supervisor, called 38 CCC boys to take care of the Dow fire, and sent other fire fighting battalions to new fires as fast as they were reported. It developes that since November 1, Fire Warden Sharp has had no fire crew, all the men having been dimsissed at that time, and the Forest Service has been assisting Sharp.

Forty two CCC boys are fighting the fire on the Kirkham ranch. From last reports, before going to press, the Kirkham fire was going strong in the high wind with nine hundred acres already burned over. In deep gorges along the river, which act as chimneys, the boys are having an especially hard battle. Assisting in this fire are Ranger Frank McCaslan of North Bloomfield.

The fire on the Dow ranch destroyed the barn and other buildings and at 4 o'clock had reached the crest of Harmony Ridge, burning through thick brush and scattered timber above the Manzanita Diggings.

A third fire has been reported one mile north of Edwards Bridge. Twenty five CCC boys are waging a battle there. This fire is threatening the Tahoe National Forest service telephone right of way, which would destroy telephone communication to lookouts to the north.

The fourth fire is reported late in the afternoon from Camptonville.

The Tahoe National Forest Service headquarters in this city is moving CCC boys from Camp Bradley today to the Grass Valley camp and will make Camp Grass Valley headquarters for the winter.

UNIVERSITY PRESS CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

BERKELEY, No. 30—Distinguished as a contributor to human knowledge since 1893, the University of California Press will open the forty fifth year of its existence on New Year's day.

The Press began to function as a publishing agency when the initial papers in the Series in Education and in the Geological Sciences were first printed. Since then it has grown in scope and volume until the books published in its plant represent a wide variety of subjects—from highly specialized scientific and scholarly material to semi-popular publications designed to acquaint the reading public with the sciences, arts, and literature.

Its publishing activities are divided into two categories. First, there is the traditional policy of publishing the results of research. This work is subsidized from general University funds and is distributed to scholars working in the same field. During the past four years books of a less specialized nature have been published and sold to the general public.

The Press does not pretend to be a profit making organization. Its chief interest lies in its service to scholarship. If it can show that it has contributed to the sum total of human knowledge the Press is satisfied that it has served the purpose of its creation.

LANDMARK HOME BURNED DOWN

C. C. Bennetts, owner of mining ground and the old Edwards house at Edward's Bridge, lost his home and entire contents Thanksgiving day. It is reported he tried in vain to put out the fire alone. A passing motorist brought the news to Nevada City late Thursday evening and turned it into Mr. Williams, nightwatchman and Officer Chas. Ninnis, who notified State Ranger William F. Sharp. He responded at once as there is a heavy growth of pine timber on the property and if it had spread would have been serious.

The house was an early day landmark built in the 50's and was a hotel for teamsters and gold seekers. The bridge across the South Yuba river, at this point was a toll bridge for many years. Many amusing, pathetic and interesting stories were told of this old bridge owned and operated by the late owner and wife.

The Golden Key

(Contributed)

Good jobs to come to 5,000,000 more men.

The nation's business to increase by seven and a half billion dollars.

And this statement: "I am confident that, assuming sound government, economic policies, there will be, during the next five years, one of the greatest expansions of production and national income in history."

Who says so? It was one of America's foremost business commentators, speaking last week before the Commonwealth Club in San Francico—the widely-read editor of "Railway Age", Mr. Samuel O. Dunn.

Whether for sure, America will pick up the golden key to those 5,000,000 jobs and that seven billions in business depends, said Mr. Dunn. But the golden key is lying there, and he pointed it out.

It is: policies to insure restoration of the two large durable goods industries; construction, and manufacturing for railways. Today construction is $6,500,000,000, while in 1929 it was 13 billions. Today manufacturing for railways is $700,000,000, while in 1929 it was $1,400,000,000.

On the railway side of it, Mr. Dunn had some answers. And he should know. That is his life work. Let there be equal competition, he said, among all forms of transport. Let Federal and state laws not pile cost-boosting burdens or rate freezing edicts on one, and substitute others. No favors, no penalties. In a word, democracy for transportation.

Government, of course, is merely the voice of the people. If they take that attitude, Mr. Dunn said, the railways will get enough business to do the huge "heavy goods" buying of steel and cars and such, to help open the door to those millions of jobs and billions in national income.

The golden key, this expert says, is lying there. The question is whether or not America will pick it up.

California Goes Visiting

(Contributed)

This being the cheerful interlude in the seasons, with Thanksgiving just gone and Christmas just ahead, it's appropriate to drop the weightier woes of the world and consider one of the lighter subjects—the pleasure and profit of touring and travel in and around California.

About 120,000 more out-of-state motorists, the Department of Motor Vehicles reported last week, visited California, in the first nine months of 1935 than in the like period a year ago. Good news, and a lot of good dollars in a lot of pockets.

But have you realized what a wandering band of touring vagabonds Californians themselves are? The Auto Association, in reporting a record 70 per cent gain in travel to national parks, says that more people from this state visited the Grand Canyon than did the people of Arizona, where the park is located!

While easily holding the lead in our own four parks of Yosemite, Sequoia, General Grant, and Lassen, we also outvisited Utah people to their own Bryce Canyon National Park. And Californians have been second only to home staters in virtually every other resort or scenic region in the west.

The state that is traditionally host to the nation sends out its share of guests to the nation as well.

PLAN FOR 1937 SCOUT JAMBOREE

The last meeting of the Tahoe Area Council was opened with a silent tribute to the late W. H. Seaver who acted as Council Commissioner for the past ten years previous. Later in the resolution was offered commending his interest and faithful service to scouting in the area.

Tuesday, January 19 was set for the date of the annual council meeting to be held at the scout hall in Grass Valley. A nominating committee composed of each district chairman was appointed to nominate officers for the coming year. Dr. R. H. Eveleth was named chairman.

The 1937 jamboree was discussed and the policies of the national council disclosed some distinct departures from the one organized for 1935. Among them was the fact that whole troops could go if such attendance did not prevent anyone going from other troops. Financing of the trip must be done by the scouts and parents. One of the qualifications to attend was that a scout or scouter attending must be a registered scout or scouter with the national office before December 31. President Sparks appointed G. W. Brundage chairman of the jamboree committee with power to select his committee in each district. Brundage was the chairman in 1935 and performed an outstanding workmanship job.

Private Diary

(of a young lady)

ON FRIDAY: And did I tell my family with great relish that I wouldn't be with them any longer . . well, at least not much longer. Mom was really pleased and even wept a tear. But that, said Papa, was merely conventional.

ON TUESDAY: By now it's gotten around to the girls and am I envied. To think, they say, that little me should capture Him . . after so many have tried. My friend Mildred has promised me a party . . won't that be fun.

I can't help feeling important.

ON THURSDAY: To CHARLES to have my hair "done" for Mildred's party for me. CHARLES was as pleased about it all as I. I said he certainly deserved to be best man . . even if He does have a little brother whom his mama wants to see all done up in tails and such. Said CHARLES but won't I be there anyway. . . Anyway? said I and wondered.

ON FRIDAY: The party lovely. And some gifts from the girls. Almost best of all was one little green wrapped gift inscribed "from Lil". But really best among the gifts . . . a note from CHARLES. "And may I", the note read, "create your wedding coiffure. I said I should be there—in spirit. And I meant it—a specially beautiful arrangement of your tresses . . by me." And WOULD I let him . . who else but CHARLES?

PENNY CO. TO GIVE EMPLOYEES XMAS BOUNS

Earl Covey, manager of the J. C. Penny store in Grass Valley states that associates of this store will share in the Christmas bonus as announced in the plan of Mr. E. C. Sams president of the company.

The Penny company recently authorized an extra payment for over 25,000 associates in all stores, offices and warehouses. All regular employees who have been with the company a year will receive two weeks extra pay. Those employed for a shorter period will receive extra pay in proportionate amounts.

In announcing the plan, Mr. Sams said:

"The year 1936 has been the most successful in the history of our business. The associates have contributed largely to that success. This bonus is not on any permanent plan. It is additional 1936 remuneration for loyalty and service that have played a part in making this the greatest year for the Penny company.

FERRY COMPANY TO CONTINUE NIGHT RUN

The Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferries, operating the automobile ferry service on San Francisco bay, has announced that, until further notice, they will operate frequent schedules during the day and continue all night service on Oakland Pier and Berkeley vehicle ferry routes for the accomodation of automobile and truck patrons.

The ferry management believes that with its excellently located terminals, its fleet of vessels especially designed for vehicle traffic, and its trained personnel, that it is in a position to offer a service that will be extremely attractive to the public for its economy, comfort, safety and convenience.

Located as they are at the water's edge, Southern Pacific Golden Gate terminals make possible the sortest routes across the bay and as they are removed from the centers of traffic congestion they permit of faster time and easier driving between the initial starting point and the final destination.

Another time saving feature, and one that materially adds to the convenience of those using the auto ferries, is the restaurant service that is featured on all of this company's boats. One may secure anything from a sandwich or cup of coffee to a complete meal without taking "time out" from the driving period.

CHRISTMAS SEALS AID T.B. BATTLE

More than a million letters, each carrying Christmas Seals, will be delivered at homes in California following Thanksgiving Day, according to announcement received from A. J. Cruickshank of Santa Ana, the president of the California Tuberculosis association. Cruickshank stated:

"Christmas Seals are being sent to every family in this state to enable them to participate in a statewide drive to abolish tuberculosis from California. The three score city and county tuberculosis associations in nearly every community in the state are mailing out more than 120,000,000 of the cheerful stickers in order to raise funds to carry on their programs of tuberculosis control during the coming year.

"Christmas Seals are being sold not only in California, but in every state in the Union. This is the 30th annual Christmas Seal sale campaign in this country.

"More than 40 countries of the civilized world are united in the International Union Against Tuberculosis and at the present time most of these organizations are carrying on the sale of Christmas Seals similiar to ours in order to finance their work.

"Although tuberculosis is decreasing," Cruickshank continued, "this disease is still our biggest public health problem and causes more deaths between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease."

LIQUOR TAX IN OCT. $173,331

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 30. — The California excise tax assessments on beer and wine continued for the nineteenth consecutive month to show an increase over those of the corresponding month of the preceding year, according to the State Board of Equalization, who today announced assessments of $173,331.12 for the month of October.

The increase of $9,342.81 over the assessments for October 1935, represents a gain of 12.6 per cent.

The seasonal nature of beer and wine sales is clearly shown by a comparison of the number of gallons of beer and wine sold in October with the number of gallons sold in the preceding month. The increase in wine sales from 1,725,716 gallons for September to 2,010,036 gallons for October was far outweighed by the decrease in beer sales from September to October of 8,459,245 to 6,488,605½ gallons.

WHERE DID YOU GET IT?

SOMETIMES, in a friend's house, you see a particularly handsome rug or lamp, a new vacuum cleaner, an attractive chair or table. Or parhaps it's a new coat or dress or some delicious new food-product.

You ask: "Where did you get it?"

Your friend says: "I got it at Blanks."

You don't ask: "How did you know Blank's had it?"

There is no need to ask; there is no mystery about that. You know your friends read the advertisements in this paper. You merely sigh enviously, and think —"I must have missed reading the ads that day."

PUBLIC NEED IS RULE TO GOVERN LABOR DISPUTES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Labor disputes cannot be satisfactorily settled until the public sets up the rules governing actions of both employer and employee, Harrison S. Robinson, Oakland industrialist and president of the finance committee of the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge, declared at the eleventh annual meeting of the California State Chamber of Commerce, in session here.

"In its own interestt" Robinson said, "the public must require labor unions to incorporate, to disclose appropriately their receipts and disbursements of money and current financial condition, and to be responsible, as other legally organized groups, are, for the acts and omissions of themselves and their agents. Furthermore, the public must prohibit by law the secondary or sympathetic strike by unions and the secondary lockout and boycott by employers. As long as we permit the one, we will have the other. The operation of both amounts to group warfare conducted in the public's territory. It is as senseless to permit as to allow lawless gangs to beat up our citizens and destroy their property. Both employers and employees will have to work hard and constantly at the job which the very relationship between them creates."

More than a thousand delegates representing every county of California are in attendance. Yesterday's sessions were given over to meetings of statewide committees, including taxation, agriculture, highways, conservation, industry and publicity and winter sports.

California's financial condition is steadily improving and the state budget will not only be balanced by the end of the biennium but it will show a surplus, A. E. Stockberger, state director of finance, predicted in a talk before the tax section. Stockberger warned, however, that this will hold true only if the tax revenue structure is maintained on its present basis.

Both industry and agriculture in California are threatened by the destructive work of the pine bark beetle in our California forests C. C. Teague, president of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, warned the conservation section. In Modoc county alone, the beetle has deprived the lumber industry of from 20 to 50 per cent of its expected cut and a number of lumber companies report that in ten years' time some of the finest stands have been reduced in amounts ranging from 60 per cent to 90 per cent. Seven million acres of forest containing sixty million board feet of lumber have been affected and in ten years' time one-sixth of this has been destroyed. The State Chamber of Commerce, Teague said, has taken leadership in a vigorous campaign to establish a research program which will result in controlling these and other destructive forest insects.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Draper had as Thanksgiving day guests, Ed Draper, Los Angeles, Ben and Dave Waite of Nevada City.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

The Job's The Thing

I went to buy a hatchet
With which to fell a tree;
"We cannot sell you hatchets now,"
The merchant said to me.
"For goodness' sake, why not?" I cried,
"We've buried them," he gravely said,
"For which the Lord be praised!"

"Well, let me have a hammer then."
I petulantly cried;
"All right," said he, "but there are rules
By which you must abide;
You can't go forth at will you know
And knock, knock through the town;
This hammer is for building up
And not for tearing down."

I listened for wild diatribes
Upon my radio—
It fairly spouted words of wrath
A few short days ago;
But every air wave bore good will,
All seemed serenely bright;
The programs were, if anything,
A bit too sweet and—light.

"Why are we all so friendly now?"
Asked little Willie Tait,
"We're on the job again," I said,
"And can't find time to hate.
There are so many things to do,
So many goals to reach—
I would enlarge upon this theme,
Were I inclined to preach."

—A. MERRIAM CONNER.

NEW CORRALS FOR UERCHERONS

Errol MacBoyle, one of the owners of the Idaho-Maryland mines company, who has a fine string of thoroughbred Percheron horses, is building two 50 by 150 foot barns on what was formerly the old Mitchell mine property near the New Brunswick mine, for his horses. Thirty men are employed in rushing the buildings to completion before the storms start. Cement foundations and the very best of lumber is being put into the big buildings which are on a sunny knoll surrounded by ploughed grain fields and pastures. Six good sized corrals surround the barns in order to give space for the animals to exercise Quite noticeable is the six foot three board fence, and heavy cedar posts being used on the corrals and for some distance along the county road, doing away with barbed wire. At this time of year many head of the horses are out in the pastures grazing on the sunny slopes.
